Service Statement

Pixces Energy Corporation (PEC) is a technical consultancy focused on assisting clients in identifying and solving the root causes behind issues affecting profitability. Building on the 25-year performance history of our sister company Viener Consulting, PEC's senior professionals bring a technical analysis to corporate management issues. For business questions affecting quality control to export control to business development to accounting efficiencies and beyond, PEC will apply an objective, technical analytical approach to identifying the appropriate solution. PEC is also prepared to execute the recommended solution.

The key to our offering is that our professionals are experienced without having an internal bias. We assist the most senior levels of management in understanding the internal blocks to success. Management often does not receive the complete picture regarding corporate issues, as the responsible parties may not wish to appear as less than fully on top of the issue. We will perform a comprehensive analysis and develop a hierarchy of recommendations which can be applied internally.

As PEC's core principles, we offer the proven history of quality performance and customer satisfaction arising from a history of success and the principals' association with Viener Consulting.
